Mr. David
Heaselden –
Director
(Shipowners' Asia Pte Ltd)

David spent 26 years at sea, 12 of which as Master on a wide range of ocean going vessels ranging from Gas Carriers, Tankers to Ferries and Cape Sized Bulker Carriers. In 1997 he came ashore and joined the UK P & I Club as a ship inspector. During the next few years he travelled worldwide visiting and reporting on the condition and management of hundreds of vessels of all types. Early in 2001 David joined the Shipowners' Club as Loss Prevention Manager with overall responsibility for loss prevention initiatives and the Ship Inspection Programme. In April 2009 David transferred to the Singapore branch office assuming responsibility for the management of the office function as well as continuing to run the Loss Prevention Department. With a grown up family, in his spare time he enjoys swimming and country walking.

Mr. Chan Hwee Seng has 38 years experience as a Loss Adjuster with Crawford with 18 years as Managing Director. He is currently the Chairman. Mr. Chan specializes in the handling of property and liability losses and dealt with major losses such as the Robinson Departmental Store fire in 1972, the cable car accident in 1983 and the Prima Food poisoning case in 2007. He also investigated several high profile cases of insurance fraud in the region and was instrumental in exposing fraud in the infamous case of 'death in Cambodia' in 2000 and the S$6 million case of arson in a departmental store in Singapore in 1998. He had delivered several papers and talks on Claims Management in Singapore and in the region. He is the current Vice President of the Singapore Insurance Institute and past president of the Insurance Law Association, Singapore.
