Presentation topic: Demystifying P&I Clubs

The upcoming Maritime Knowledge Shipping Session will debut its first; a session whereby both presenters will cover one presentation jointly, titled, Demystifying P&I Clubs.

In the first half of the presentation, both speakers will seek to provide participants with an overview of the role of P&I Clubs and the cover they provide to their members, namely ship owners, operators and charterers. They will also shed some light on how the cover provided by P&I Clubs complement other types of marine insurance and the functions of the various departments within P&I Clubs. Participants will gain insights to how marine mutual third party liability insurers, such as the P&I Clubs, function and what benefits their members enjoy.

What constitutes large claims and how are these claims dealt by different companies? How would the different stakeholders and agencies react to such claims? In the second half of the presentation, both speakers will use a case study to illustrate intricacies of large claims and discuss key issues that may be pertinent to the varied stakeholders that are involved. The speakers will also provide participants with a well-rounded understanding of the content shared in the earlier half of the presentation.
